EQUAL-WORLD DEVELOPMENT (EQWODET)
Our Strategy 2020 – 2030 Agenda
THE EXECUTIVE SUMMARY.

Introduction.
Concerned that Uganda has the world’s youngest population with over 78 percent of the population below the age of 35, about half of the population is below 30 years of age. As highlighted in the World Development Report, youth are Uganda’s and the World’s most abundant assets and the time has never been better to invest in young people living in developing countries.

Cognisant that the demographic significance of this large cohort of young people and rural communities in Uganda and Africa is increasingly taking centre stage in discussions of sustainable socio-economic development and the achievement of the SDGs, this Organisation will directly work toward improving the situation of young people, rural women and the vulnerable communities: universal access to primary education; gender equality in access to education; employment creation, maternal health; Climate Action, HIV and AIDS, the situation of the majority vulnerable people in Uganda remains a concern to realize the Country’s Vision 2040 and the SDGs agenda 2030.

WHO WE ARE.
Equal-World Development (EQWODET) is a non-governmental and not for profit Organisation which was born as a concern for multiple community needs such as poverty, hunger, climate change and global warming, domestic violence, youth unemployment, high OVC burden, gender inequality, low school retention, poor health and nutrition that act in a vicious cycle. Equal-World Development is a coalition of Professional unemployed Youths who feel have something to give back to the community and are currently working as volunteers in various Organisations. Equal-World Development is supported by a team of voluntary practicing professionals in areas of health, education, agriculture and environment. THE NEED
- There is need to Ensure that women and girls can break the cycle of poverty and violence, build economic alternatives and claim control over their bodies. Women and youth in Teso sub region and Uganda bear more substantive risks of suffering significant physical, emotional or mental harm that result in their human rights and needs not being fulfilled. Most of their opportunities to grow, develop and form informed opinions are hampered by a lack of access to information and life-skills;
- Teso Sub region is registering a small number of Non-governmental Organisations operating since majority of the Organisations shifted their attention to the Karamoja, Acholi and Lango sub regions the war tone regions in Northern Uganda leaving Teso sub region more vulnerable and in need. There is more need for support to reach the most poorest of the poor in the region specifically children, youths and rural women being the most vulnerable to domestic violence in the region.

- There is need to empower men, women and youth on women’s land rights and other reproductive resources.
- Climate change and global warming are a threat to both the government and society.
  There is need to avert climate change before the situation gets to worst.

EQWODET with her coalition partners such as Trumpets of Gideon Green Villages and KUNASO, ActionAid Kumi Local Rights Program launched a project called “Greening Teso Tree Planting campaign” majorly aiding and encouraging tree and fruit tree planting, school and home gardens, forest and wetland protection measures looking at the current global threat in climate change.

The need has been only growing over the years and EQWODET which started with a humble partnership program with Trumpets Of Gideon Green Villages, Kumi District Local Government and Kumi Network of Aids Service Organisation to implement a project called “Greening Teso Tree Planting Campaign” which is still on going. EQWODET is currently mobilizing for 50,000,000 tree seedlings to plant in Teso sub region and a tune of 55,000,000 Million in the coming year to execute their plans in restoring the lost glory of nature in only Teso sub region.
80,000,000 to carry out health interve entions,
94,000,000 to support livelihood programs, 95,000,000 to support education program in the region.

THE SCOPE.

(i) We work with Women and young people; To Increase their financial abilities that can enable them identify valuable income generating projects for their families, Educate their children (girl child focus), afford better health, clothing and shelter for their children and Reduce poverty and attain improved standards of living.

Advance gender equality, equity and the empowerment of women, ensuring elimination of all kinds of violence against women and children through Full participation in social, economic and political spectra at all levels and bringing women into the main stream of development.

Work with men to mentor young boys address masculinity since men and boys are the core perpetrators of violence against women and girls.

Having its headquarters in Kumi - Uganda, EQWODET intends to extend its activities and programs to the entire Teso sub region and the surrounding communities such as Bugisu, Busoga, Karamoja, and Bugwere being the highly affected regions with Gender Based Violence issues. EQWODET has an established strong network with various implementing partners in various fields such as ActionAid International Uganda (AAIU), Trailblazers Mentoring Foundation (TMF).
OUR STRATEGIC FOCUS

- Advocacy on Gender equality, gender based violence, rightful and proper equal allocation and distribution of services in society, and human rights advocacy among other pertinent issues that affect the rural communities.
- Promoting Health programs majorly in HIV/AIDS Prevention, Water, and Sanitation and Hygiene promotion, maternal health and child care.
- Improving and promoting Learning and education attainment programs such as advocating for child feeding programs, child friendly schools, every child inclusion to education, community dialoguing.
- Mitigate climate change through Promoting environment protection measures such as tree and fruit tree planting programs, wet land and forest conservation, adopting to climate resilience sustainable agriculture.
- Improving livelihoods of the most vulnerable and hard to reach communities through capacity building on enterprise selection, development and management among youths, women, OVC with their households.
- Promoting mutual understanding and partnership between Non-governmental Organisations, Government/state and the citizens.

OUR PROGRAM FOCUS

   Narrowing home and school sanitation problem further demonstrates that women and children are worst affected. Findings from a case studies that involve primary schools shows that 94% of the girls faced a number of problems at school and home during menstruation. For instance, three out of five girls (61%) reported staying away from school while undergoing menstruation. Majority of the girls reported lack of poor WaSH facilities such as inadequate water for washing themselves during the blood flow, lack of soap, lack of washrooms and sanitary materials, lack of sufficient privacy and nonfunctioning or insufficient pit latrines and health education. To improve the situation, 94% of the girls interviewed mentioned that they needed to be taught facts about menstruation, but also educate the boys. 4 out of 5 girls said that more facilities are needed for girls and that the facilities should be kept clean. Besides, “The current policy on gender in the education sector is not strong enough to address the needs of girls when they are in school”. Many girls mention problems they face using toilets without privacy from peers and to dispose the used sanitary pads. Right from the home cultural background, the boys look at menstruation as a taboo and therefore often tease the girls.

2. The other problems of school sanitation include poor dilapidated pit latrines, poor waste disposal and management. The schools are also challenged by lack of appropriate fuel options for cooking children’s meals besides use of firewood which is not only difficult to get, but also environmentally destructive. This project will seek to improve environmental sanitation for schools.
through promotion of appropriate drainage facilities to rid the school environment of grey water from the kitchens as well as fuel wood saving technologies that are energy efficient and reduce smoke.

While Government and other development partners are engaged in infrastructural and lifesaving mechanisms, EQWODET focuses on the Sustained wellbeing of OVC households through:

i. Promoting and increasing nutritional support and programs to OVCs with their households, more so those affected by HIV/AIDS and insurgencies.

ii. Improving the socio-economic status of the OVC households through skills development and enterprise development.

iii. Providing Psychosocial support to OVC households, Adolescents and Youths to those affected by HIV/AIDS and war.

v. Primary healthcare promotion programs in Water, Sanitation and Hygiene, HIV/AIDS Prevention, care and support programs among the OVC and their households and in every low and no-income family.

vi. For adolescents and youths, we intend to conduct regular Health programs to prevent new infections for the case of HIV/AIDS, offering psychosocial support keeping them healthy in body and mind under the motto “a sound mind in a sound body”, support school gardening to support and promote child feeding in schools, empower youths with skills for survival.

vii. Orphaned and vulnerable Youths empowerment programs for their own self sustenance.

2. Education.

Learning and Education attainment is a human right despite of little resource allocation in the national and district budgeting. In the last few years, hundreds of children are still denied their right to education and even other basic needs. Restricted access to education is one of the surest ways of transmitting poverty from generation to generation. Education is a vital human right, enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child. Every girl and every boy should have the right to a quality education so that they can have more chances in life, including... employment opportunities, better health and also to participate in the leadership process. Investing in education yields significant development benefits. Education reduces poverty, boosts economic growth and increases income. It increases a person’s chances of having a healthy life, reduces maternal deaths, and combats diseases such as HIV and AIDS. Education can promote gender equality, reduce child marriage, and promote peace. EQWODET seeks to:

i. Support OVC with educational materials, youth’s skilling and empowerment schemes through practical vocational training and skills acquisition for self-sustenance.

ii. Conduct and support community dialogue meetings between the learners, the parents, stakeholders and the implementing partners to support learning and education programs at all levels since education is a key to wisdom and knowledge acquisition and poverty eradication.

iii. Support with schools with learning aid materials such as text books, writing materials, balls among others.

iv. Support teacher refresher training courses to improve on the knowledge base of teachers, share information and experience with fellow professionals across borders.

v. Lobby and Support communities with shelters to facilitate both learners and teachers in the worst affected communities.

vi. Support and promote Leadership coaching and mentorship programs with school children, young leaders, and society leaders across levels.

i. Plant over 1,000,000 tree seedlings every year to reduce climate and global warming which are a global threat today and tomorrow, and to restore the lost glory of tree cover in Uganda.

ii. Educate the communities on the importance of trees and conserving swamps and wetlands and the dangers of cutting down trees.

iii. Engage schools, communities, government, and implementing partners in massive tree planting, environment conservation and health care campaigns.

iv. Carry policy advocacy on natural resource management (wet land and forest conservation, waste management and management of eco-system).

v. Support groups and households adopt the eco-system and climate sustainable resilient agriculture to mitigate climate change.

4. Livelihoods.
Agriculture is the mainstay of our people and the backbone of our economies and the activity is mainly done by the rural people. Its future depends on the ability to support a growing population, which demands sound management of the natural resource base. Under present land and population pressures, escalating rates of environmental degradation and food insecurity have exacerbated (worsened) the challenge. For many communities, land holdings are shrinking in size and becoming more fragmented. We intend to do the following;

i. Build the capacity of Farmers and young people engaged in agriculture in modern agricultural technology such as horticulture practices, climate resilience sustainable agriculture and enterprise development.

ii. Supporting and promoting village savings and loans associations, support financial literacy/education on business management and profit making among youth led groups and women groups for self-sustenance.

iii. Youth’s empowerment/skilling schemes such as vocational skills training, saving cultures.
Promoting VSLAs is among our strategies to end financial illiteracy, poverty, and hunger among households.

5. Access to Women Rights, opportunities and gender responsiveness.

Women and young people (adolescents and youth) make up a large Uganda's population, about 91.37%. The gross inequalities and inhuman conditions women and young people endure both as a result of the conflict in general is a key factor contributing to Uganda's extremely poor human development index. The situation of women and young people is particularly dire and presents real concerns for their fair treatment, access to justice and overall human rights protection and equal shared opportunities.

i. Advance gender equality, equity and the empowerment of women, and young people ensuring elimination of all kinds of violence against women and young people through full participation in social, economic and political spectra at all levels and bringing women and youth into the main stream of both social, economic and political development in society.

ii. Create safe spaces for nurturing and catalyzing feminist and transformational leaders who advance gender equality and women, and youth empowerment programs.

iii. To raise an informative generation on the current social-economic and political development programs, youth and Social Equality conflicts with anticipated behavior adaptation and consequently admission to decision making amongst youth and women through demonstrated evidence of youth and women engagement and empowerment for their social and sustainable development;

iv. To mentor and coach young people who are the leaders of today and tomorrow on rightful strategies on policy analysis and development, support engagements between the public and the policy makers for equal delivery of services.
v. Promote the economic and social rights/empowerment of girls and women increasing the number of girls and women receiving quality education and learning, entrepreneurial training; improving access by women to decent work and to national social protection systems; promoting equal access to financial services for women and girls and to the use of and control over land and other productive resources, and providing support to women entrepreneurs; fostering girls’ and women’s access to, use of, and control over clean water, energy, information and communication technology and transport infrastructure.

THE SWOT ANALYSIS
A SWOT-analysis is our strategic planning method that dives into the organization’s internal strengths and weaknesses, as well as external opportunities and threats. The elements of the SWOT analysis (as presented below) form the core of our organization’s strategic plan.

The Strength.

i. EQWODET’s main strength lies in the POWER of Her PEOPLE and the Community. The Board members, Managerial staff and Field staff play a vital role in achieving the desired results.

ii. Recognition of work accomplished. Kumi District Local Government, ActionAid Uganda Kumi LRP, National water and sewerage cooperation and other corporate entities have recognized the good work done by EQWODET and have supported our activities with liberal grants. Our team enjoy an excellent relationship with the District local government authorities with her implementing partners for instance as TASO, Action Aid Uganda Kumi office, National water and sewerage cooperation, The lions Club of Kumi, and a few business institutions such as Centenary bank, and Finance trust bank.

iii. Excellent volunteer support. Over the last year, EQWODET has developed and cultivated a dedicated voluntary spirit to her Board members and community well-wishers. This voluntary spirit has assisted our team in implementing a few of her programs in environment, health and education support.

iv. Community leaders, church heads, implementing partners, business community and our well-wishers are a great strength to Equal-World Development. We thank our partners AAIU, KDLG, PAG and COU who are committed to support our programs in the field of education, health, environment and capacity building. Apart from propagating EQWODET, they also permit our team to use their meetings with community members as places for publicizing their programs.

v. Past experience gained in implementing a few projects is a great strength for EQWODET. Experience is the best teacher and EQWODET fully utilizes this strength in planning and implementing their present and future projects.

Weaknesses

1. Stringent budget constraint is our major challenge. Being a Nonprofit making CBO, finance to support our programs and activities is our major weakness but so far the Organisation is carrying out some income generating activities like liquid soap making and others to make money for the Organisation.

2. Shortage of funds to facilitate our field programs such as trainings, dialogues, monitoring and evaluation. Though volunteer support is available, inadequate full time Filed Staff is a challenge of EQWODET.

3. Lack of professional and systematic work habits. As a Nonprofit making entity, when funds come late and at times when the external environment is not favorable to implement a project planned, the output may tend to get poor.

Opportunities

- International organisations and companies are increasing their grants to environment (climate action), and health a case in point is the COVID-19 Pandemic and HIV/AIDS.
Increasing Community understanding of promoting learning and education attainment, promoting and conserving environment for future generations, good health practices and cooperation of community leaders and influential personalities like church heads is an opportunity to EQWODET to spread their message.

Today everyone is health and environment conscious and look for more information and support in this regard. Not to be left behind, the media is feeding health, environment, capacity building and learning and education-related information to its readers and viewers, at every available opportunity.

Threats

i. The political environment in the donor countries is a bigger threat to the local CBO/NGOs. This at times comes with a lot of strings attached to the recipient.

ii. Increasing program costs over the years is a big threat to our plans. EQWODET needs to provide for 5 to 10 percent cost escalation in their plans as costs keep increasing over a period for all inputs.

iii. Low and inadequate income of targeted beneficiaries is another threat, as they are always busy trying to meet their ends, paying less attention to the directly funded initiatives.

iv. Government policies on taxing non-profit Organisations more so through the banking systems

v. High expectations from the local communities and indirect beneficiaries.

RISK ANALYSIS

Equal-World Development acknowledges the risks that may have to be encountered in the future and has laid down contingency plans to overcome and reduce the impact of any risk occurring in the future. Some of the risks identified by EQWODET include:

Reduction in Grant funding – A drop in this may affect the programs planned by EQWODET in the future years.

To prevent and meet such an eventuality;

i. EQWODET plans to better its relationship with more and well established Organisations, government officials and senior executives of philanthropic organizations.

ii. EQWODET plans to outsource grant writing expertise to reach more funders who regularly sanction grants to NPOs. EQWODET also plans to diversify its revenue sources to reduce the dependency on grants over the next three years.

iii. Drop in Volunteer participation – The more the volunteer participation, the better is program implementation at lesser operating expenses. Volunteer participation is difficult to predict and also uncertain at any given time.

iv. EQWODET plans to overcome this by establishing a wide network of professional volunteers through graduate schools and community centers. Youngsters with a philanthropic attitude are identified and invited to participate in our community voluntary programs.

v. Appreciation certificates are issued after successful completion of programs, as recognition of their voluntary service.

vi. Staff attrition – NPO staff need a philanthropic attitude to perform their tasks in an NPO organization. NPOs operate on shoestring budgets and staff cannot expect the same perks and comforts enjoyed by their counterparts doing similar work in commercial ventures. Hence there is always this risk of staff attrition at all times when staff shifts out for better pastures.

vii. EQWODET to overcome this treats all employees as team members, giving them equal opportunity to put in their best. By ensuring staff job satisfaction through team spirit and appropriate recognition, EQWODET will prevent and reduce attrition of trained staff.

Fiscal Projections
- Financial performance data for the last fiscal year and financial projections for the coming and the next year programs will be attached as an Appendix to the plan document.
- Highlights of Financial Budget:
  - Targeting an increase in revenues by 25% every succeeding year
  - Planning to increase aid every succeeding year by utilizing 79%, 82% and 84% of revenues after meeting administration overheads, on aid programs.
  - Increase the number of beneficiaries.

Success Metrics
Having set the Goals and Tasks for this year, our team will measure its success by:

i. The number of capacity building trainings conducted.

ii. The number of young and rural farmers reached and trained on climate resilient sustainable agriculture and other modern agricultural practices

iii. The number of OVC supported and their livelihood improved.
