How we save lives

Leicestershire based charity Inter Care has been supporting health units in sub-Saharan Africa since 1974. Current estimates suggest that £300-400 million prescribed medicines go to waste each year (York Health Economics Consortium 2010). Inter Care makes use of some of those valuable surplus medicines.

Throughout Africa there are millions of people who have to go without treatment for everyday illnesses because of a lack of basic medicines.

We need your help to ship donated medicines and save lives in Africa.

Please support our work.

Inter Care supports the work of over 100 rural hospitals, dispensaries and health centres in Ghana, Cameroon, Tanzania, Zambia, Sierra Leone and Malawi by sending regular supplies of quality, in date (15 months) essential, basic medicines. To date Inter Care has sent nearly £11 million worth of medicines to these countries.
