

- EXAMPLES OF PHOTOGRAPHY AVAILABLE FOR MEDIA USE -

Cane sugar fields
Belize Central America

Cane Sugar Field / Harvesting cane
sugar in Belize

Hand loading freshly harvested cane sugar

Belizean cane farmer
Alejandro Flores

Harvesting cane sugar by hand

Smallholder cane farmer Gilberto Polanco and his wife
Brigida outside their house in San Roman, Orange
Walk district, Belize

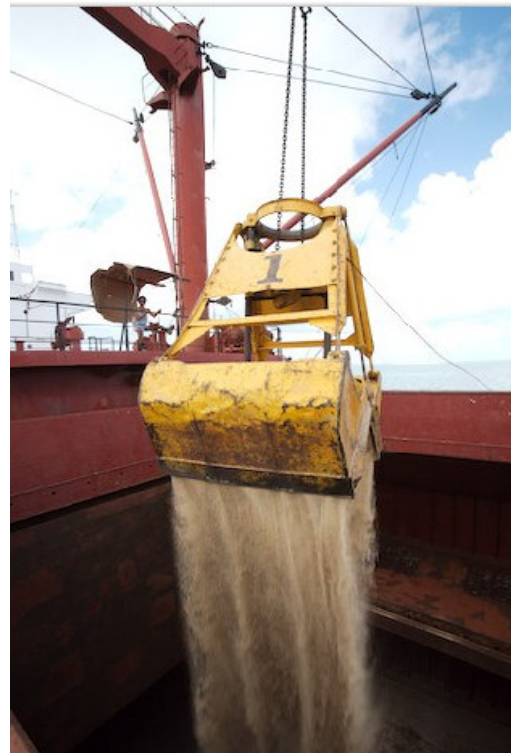

Delivering raw cane sugar by truck to the mill, Belize

Children at the Xaibe Roman Catholic School, Xaibe Village (Corozal district, Northern Belize), point out damage to their school building caused by Hurricane Dean last year

Unrefined cane sugar is loaded onto the 14,000 tonne San Sebastian, four miles out to sea, in Belize. It takes approximately one month to load the ship and a further 21 days to sail to the Thames Refinery in the UK

Unrefined cane sugar is unloaded at the Tate & Lyle Thames Refinery, UK

Unrefined cane sugar is unloaded at the Tate & Lyle Thames Refinery, UK

Cane sugar, refined at Tate & Lyle's Thames Refinery, is packed into the new look Fairtrade branded packaging

Tate & Lyle Fairtrade cane sugar on shelf

Tate & Lyle Fairtrade cane sugar
– In shopping basket