Introduction Letter for the collaboration between Friends of the United Nations Europe (FOTUN EUROPE) and Social & Healthy Action for Rural Empowerment (SHARE) to achieve the objectives listed in the submitted Project Proposal.

Project Title: Community based Reproductive Health addressed especially to young women living at risk in the 20 villages and suburbs of Potka block of East Singhbhum district in Jharkhand, India in two years

this letter aims to introduce the useful collaboration between the Organization named "Friends Of The United Nations Europe" (FOTUN EUROPE) and "Social & Healthy Action for Rural Empowerment (SHARE)", for supporting and strengthening the activities of the project "Community based Reproductive Health addressed especially to young women living at risk in the 20 villages and suburbs of Potka block of East Singhbhum district in Jharkhand, India in two years", managed and implemented by Indian NGO " Social & Healthy Action for Rural Empowerment (SHARE)".

Thanks to its international vision, expertise and worldwide activities in matter of environment and health, FOTUN EUROPE will support the "Social & Healthy Action for Rural Empowerment (SHARE)" to provide educational documentation, communication tools, consultancy and to give international dimension to the activities bringing the most innovative best practices suggested by the International Community as well U.N. Agencies.

The activity of FOTUN EUROPE is external, an added value to increase the effectiveness of a project fully realized and managed by "Social & Healthy Action for Rural Empowerment (SHARE)". This support is the first phase of our involvement in India, because very soon we will establish a registered Office in the Country to start a constant activity for the benefit of Indian people on our focus areas of work (Environment and Public Health).

Our wide range of contacts, collaborations and ongoing activities worldwide allows us to support "Social & Healthy Action for Rural Empowerment (SHARE)" in a very effective way, giving to this NGO the occasion to make an even more useful project, creating the basis for a benefit very durable over time.

For this reason we are sure that this project, if approved, will be the occasion to make an important advancement of the population's living conditions.

Friends of the United Nations Europe background

The European chapter of International Organization named "Friends Of The United Nations" was born on the instructions of the Founder Dr. Noel J. Brown, former RONA UNEP Director and current President of Friends Of The United Nations main Headquarters in New York, 866 United Nations Plaza, with a permanent representation to the United Nations.

The Organization is accredited to Department of Public Information (DPI) of United Nations, and its purpose is to involve citizens worldwide on the most important U.N. missions and campaigns, promoting in each activity the values and principles of United Nations Charter.

Friends Of The United Nations Europe works in several Countries to support the projects of a lot of local NGOs, to empower local communities helping them to make always more effective projects, sharing experiences, knowledge and communication tools.

The activities of Friends Of The United Nations Europe are focused on Environment, Health (with a specific focus on Reproductive Health) and Biosafety, with a pool of experts able to support each of these activities with the most recent, innovative and useful best practices coming from the International Agencies and United Nations galaxy.

The specific interest of Friends Of The United Nations Europe is to support at best local partners providing technical and external assistance, to strengthen the projects effects for the only benefit of the targeted communities. The Organization absolutely does not replace the local partner in the management and even in the implementation of the project, but as simple technical partner give its support to improve the project activities giving to the work an international vision.

Despite its recent establishment, Friends Of The United Nations Europe works closely with many NGOs in the following Countries (and many other collaboration will occurs in the coming months):

African Countries:

- Burkina Faso
- Sierra Leone
- Ghana
- Liberia
- Niger
- Nigeria
